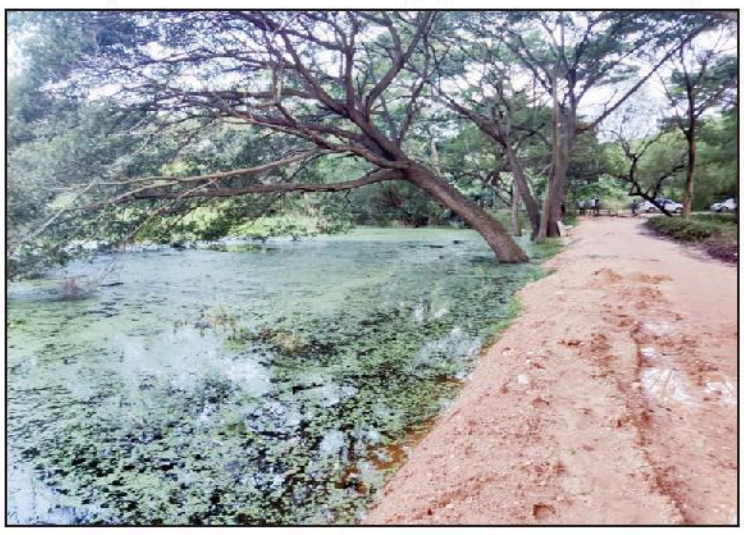
Kukkarahalli Lake full to brim

WALKING BANNED

Many trees leaning precariously; bund breaches at couple of places



Mysuru, Oct. 18 (RK&BCT)- For the first time in recent years, the iconic Kukkarahalli Lake has filled to its brim and taking into consideration the safety of morning and evening walkers, especially senior citizens and children, walking has been temporarily banned. The decision to ban walking has been taken by the authorities of University of Mysore — the Lake's custodian.

Many trees are leaning precariously and they might fall at any moment due to loosened soil, covered with water and slush.

While the Lake bund has breached at one place from where water enters the Lake from Paduvarahalli side, the walking path too has caved-in and as a precaution, branches have been placed on the hole to alert the passers-by.

Overflowing water has entered the UGC-Human Resource Development Centre and the building has been covered by water on all sides. No activity can take place in the building unless the water level recedes.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Pain can be felt in unique and myriad ways. The pain suffered due to a physical injury or health issue is different from the one due to a financial loss. The emotional pain due to the loss of a dear one, or from an unreasonable backlash from a dear one is poignantly different. The threshold limit of pain is again different for each individual. It may be their self-respect or the desire not to upset their dear ones by showcasing their pain, both of which stem from extreme self-restraint and resilience.

The shastras postulate that bodily pain should not be given much importance. The puranas have many such heroic stories which may be difficult to replicate in this era. Karna had posed as a brahmin and become a disciple of sage Parashurama. Once, the guru was fast asleep on the disciple's lap. A blood sucking bug latched on to Karna's body and the pain was terrible. But Karna did not stir lest his revered guru's sleep be disturbed.

When Parashurama woke up and saw Karna's state, he realised that Karna could not be a brahmin but of a Kshatriya clan capable of bearing such levels of pain. The ending of that story is not the point here but pain threshold is. Tolerance of pain is ultimately an excellent display of self-control and extremely laudable.

Wild boar piglet adopted by cows

Berlin: A herd of cows in Germany has gained an unlikely following, after adopting a lone wild boar piglet.

Farmer Friedrich Stapel said that he spotted the piglet among the herd in the central German community of Brevoerde about three weeks ago. It had likely lost its group when they crossed a nearby river.

Stapel said while he knows what extensive damage wild boars can cause, he can't bring himself to chase the animal away, dpa reported Thursday.

The local hunter has been told not to shoot the piglet — nicknamed Frieda — and in winter Stapel plans to put it in the shed with the mother cows. "To leave it alone now would be unfair," he said.

Levi's jeans from 1880s auctioned for $87,400

Aztec: A pair of Levi's jeans dating from the 1880s were found in an abandoned mine and auctioned for 87,400 dollars.

The pants were found in an abandoned mine in the American West by self-described "denim archaeologist" Michael Harris and were sold at Durango Vintage Festivus, a four-day celebration of denim on the outskirts of Aztec in New Mexico.

The jeans, which feature a buckleback adjuster along the seat, were purchased by Kyle Hautner and Zip Stevenson. Hautner paid 90% of the price, while Stevenson contributed the remaining 10%.

Stevenson, who owns and operates the Denim Doctors repair shop in Los Angeles, said the pants were a rare discovery.

- The first watches date from the late 15th century (about 1480). However, this invention is often attributed to a clockmaker in Nuremberg, Peter Hele or Henlein, who designed very small clocks at the beginning of the 16th century (around 1510).
- The casing of these first watches was oval-shaped for a long time, hence the nickname Nuremberg egg. They became progressively flatter and finally became pocket watches.

Poor condition of footpaths in Mysuru

Sir,

I have seen the civic authorities are building good tiled footpaths next to the main road in most of the places in the city and the new roads are asphalted pre or post Dasara in Mysuru.

I really appreciate the good work which is being done by them and kudos to MCC team.

But what is surprising for me is maintenance of footpath. Newly built footpaths will vanish within a few weeks after their birth.

Here is an example of the 1-km stretch between Maharshi School and Sterling theatre in Vidyaranyapuram to JP Nagar connecting road, and this is not different on the parallel road.

Half-completed footpath makes the walkway unusable in many places. Concrete debris is dumped on this stretch, which forces pedestrians to step down to the road next to the footpath.

After every 20 to 30 metres, one can see a trench or open drainage calling for disaster for the user of the footpath.

Open drains, Transformers or Electrical pole and petty shops occupying the footpath are some common restrictions in many places on this stretch.

I request the authorities to ensure that the debris is cleared from the footpath, tiling is done properly, open drainages are closed, encroachments are cleared to ensure that the pedestrians start using footpath than the road next to the footpath.

I am sure, the status is same in most of the footpaths in Mysuru. Hence, I request the authorities and the people's representatives to initiate a drive to clear the footpath under the leadership of local legislator, Mayor and Corporators in most of the places and take pride of becoming Cleanest City in India soon.

Portion of Mysore Palace fort wall collapses near Kote Maramma Temple

Spot barricaded; Repair works of fort wall measuring about 20 mts begin

Mysuru, Oct. 18 (MTY&KS)- Following continuous heavy rains in city, a portion of the Mysore Palace fort wall towards the left side of Kote Maramma Temple and near to the Varaha Gate of the Palace has collapsed late last night.

This portion of the fort wall was dilapidated and had developed cracks. A month back, a total of 55 mts weak fort wall was identified to be repaired at a cost of Rs. 39.06 lakh and tender was also called to take up repair works.

The tender was also awarded to one Chandrashekar, who was to take up repair works last month itself but due to Dasara festivities the repair works could not be taken up.

Cannon firing exercise was shifted to other venue: As many portions of the fort wall had developed cracks, the cannon firing exercise, which was being held at the parking lot near Varaha Gate and close to Kote Maramma Temple to acclimatise Dasara elephants to the booming sounds of cannons, was also shifted to the parking lot at Dasara Exhibition Grounds on M.G. Road as the vibrations made from the booming sound of cannons could further damage the fort wall.

This morning, Palace Engineer Vinod inspected the collapsed portion of the fort wall measuring about 20 mts.

He said that the materials that were used to construct the fort wall earlier will be used to repair the damaged fort wall and the works have begun this morning.

Meanwhile, Mysore Palace Board Deputy Director T.S. Subramanya, speaking to Star of Mysore, attributed the wall collapse for three reasons: The fort wall is over 100 years old; Continuous heavy rains and vibrations caused due to cannon firing exercise.

He said that tenders to take up repair works of weak and dilapidated portions of the fort wall was called a month back and anticipating further damage, cannon firing drill was also shifted to the parking lot at Dasara Exhibition Grounds. But due to continuous rains in recent days, the portion of the fort wall dilapidated further and collapsed.

Subramanya said that the spot, where the portion of the fort wall collapsed, has been covered this morning and public has been cautioned not to venture close to the collapsed portion. The contractor has been instructed to take up the repair works from today itself, he added.

Thousands witness Cauvery Theerthodbhava

A scene at Talacauvery during Cauvery Theerthodbhava last night.

Madikeri, Oct. 18 (PS&BCT)- Thousands of devotees from Kodagu, across the State and Tamil Nadu congregated at Talacauvery in Kodagu last night to witness Cauvery Theerthodbhava amid chanting of mantras and other religious rituals.

The holy event took place exactly at the predetermined Muhurtha of 7.22 pm in Mesha Lagna at the foothills of Brahmagiri inside the Holy Brahmakundike, considered to be the source of River Cauvery.

It is believed that Goddess Cauvery comes in the form of a fountain-head where water gushes from the Brahmakundike. A team of priests, led by Prashanth Achar, Raviraj Achar and Gururaja Achar chanted Vedic hymns before sprinkling holy water on the devotees. Later, devotees collected the Theertha (holy water) to be distributed among community members and to be kept at homes as holy signs.

The rituals associated with the holy occurrence began at 5 pm and as the predetermined time neared, devotees chanted mantras and welcomed the Goddess. The Theerthodbhava took place after the Sankalpa Puja and Mahamangalarathi. As the water bubbles appeared in the Brahmakundike that was filled with flowers, Kumkum and vermillion, the cries of devotees reached a crescendo.

Devotees took a holy dip in the main pond (Kalyani) in front of the Brahmakundike and offered their prayers. They jostled to collect holy water in pots from the Kundike and the priests sprinkled the holy water on them.

The area around the pond was barricaded to enable crowd management and only small groups of devotees were let inside by the Police to prevent crowding and stampede. Despite barricades, devotees swarmed around the Brahmakundike and the Kalyani.

Devotees also thronged Triveni Sangama at Bhagamandala and many took a dip in the river and many offered the ritualistic Pinda Pradhana as a mark of respect to their elders.

The Kodagu Ekikarana Ranga distributed free breakfast and lunch to the devotees as part of its 27th year food distribution. Free food will be supplied till the end of Tula month on Nov. 17. Kodagu District Minister B.C. Nagesh, MLAs Appachu Ranjan and K.G. Bopaiah and others were present.

Devotees in traditional attire walk from Bhagamandala to Talacauvery

Unlike the last two years, thousands of devotees turned up to watch the spectacle and notably, many Kodava community members walked from Bhagamandala to Talacauvery along with musical bands and sang songs in praise of Goddess Cauvery. The holy place was teeming with devotees since early in the morning and the place was overcrowded by evening.

Various Kodava organisations like Akhila Kodava Samaja Youth Wing, Connecting Kodavas, Kodava Riders Club, Jabbhoomi Trust, Thingakoru Mottu Sanghatane, Ammathi Kodava Samaja, Ponnampet Kodava Samaja, Madikeri Kodava Samaja, Balele Kodava Samaja, Kodava Kootaaliyada Koota, Kodava Samajas of Napoklu, Virajpet, Hudikeri, Mysuru, Amma Kodava Samaja, Youth Council, Kodavaamera Kondata, United Kodava Organisation and Codava National Council walked along the route, singing paeans to the Goddess.

Theertha Puja at Kodava Samaja

Kodava Samaja, Mysuru, celebrated Cauvery Sankramana festival at its premises in Vijayanagar 1st Stage here this morning by performing Kani Puja and Theertha Puja. Arrangements were made to distribute Holy Water brought from Talacauvery to all those present on the occasion. Picture shows Samaja members performing the Puja rituals.

Kukkarahalli Lake: Walking banned

Speaking to SOM, University Registrar Prof. R. Shivappa said that he had visited the Lake last evening along with a team of engineers and assessed the situation. "The historic bund that carries water from Paduvarahalli has been damaged due to the breach and it needs to be repaired. Also, there are many trees that are dangerously leaning towards the Lake and also the walking path. Safety is of primary concern for us and we have taken a decision to ban visitors to the Lake including morning and evening walkers," he said.

Excess water that has entered areas outside the Lake boundaries will have to be pumped out and the water level has to recede for normalcy to be restored, the Registrar added without providing any timeline to restore public entry into the Lake premises.

Mysuru, Oct. 18 (SBD&DM)- Jnanpith awardee Dr. Chandrashekar Kambar said that Sarod Maestro Pandit Rajeev Taranath was his biggest Literary Guru.

He was speaking at the 90th birthday celebration and felicitation of the Sarod Maestro organised by Pandit Rajeev Taranath Felicitation Trust at JSS Women's College auditorium in Saraswathipuram here yesterday.

Recalling that Pandit Taranath had taken him to his home when he (Kambar) wrote his poetry work 'Helateena Keli', Dr. Chandrashekar Kambar said that the two shared a loaf of bread.

"From then on I used to show him the proof of what I had written before proceeding with printing," he said.

Recounting that the talk he delivered at a New York Convention on Indian History was in fact from what Sarod Maestro told him, Dr. Kambar said his talk was lauded by the then Prime Minister Atal Bihari Vajpayee and former PM P.V. Narasimha Rao, who had attended the event.

Pointing out that though Taranath did not write any critical articles, he regretted that though Pt. Taranath changed the course of our Literature, his literary knowledge was not much recognised.

Reiterating that Pandit Taranath was his biggest Guru, he wished the Sarod Maestro health and happiness for years to come.

Ustad Fayaz Khan, who trained under Pandit Rajeev Taranath, said that the Sarod Maestro was the 'Ganges' of Music.

Maintaining that Taranath was as sacred and pious as the Ganga, he said that he learnt a lot from his Guru on mastering Music. "I will be always indebted to him," the Ustad said adding that he would always call Taranath as 'Baba', as his personality and stature was beyond explanation in words.

Former Kannada Sahitya Parishat President Dr. Manu Baligar said that the Sarod Maestro's father Taranath was a top writer and musician. His (Rajeev Taranath) mother Sumathi was a close associate of Sarojini Naidu and was a big voice for women's causes. It is fortunate that Rajeev Taranath was born to such distinguished parents, he said adding that the achievements of Rajeev Taranath is hardly matched.

Recalling the contributions of the Sarod Maestro to Music and Literary fields, he said that Rajeev Taranath was an epitome of humanity and we should follow his ideals and principles.

Suttur Mutt Seer Sri Shivarathri Deshikendra Swamiji graced the occasion.

Speaking after being honoured on his 90th birthday and entering his 91st year, Pandit Rajeev Taranath said that though Tamil was his mother tongue, he grew up in Kannada Nadu and Kannada runs through his blood.

Observing that Karnataka accepted multi-culture practices and different forms of music for centuries, he regretted that this is now fast vanishing as everyone seems to be losing their tolerance and empathy.

Bemoaning the current tendency of recognising talent and achievers on caste lines, he said that this should not happen for any reason. Also, we should never ever forget our Gurus who taught us music and the values of life.

"My Guru Ustad Ali Akbar Khan treated me with much affection. He did not take even a single rupee for teaching me music. He is my Musical God. Compassion, discretion, tolerance, conscience and such other human values should be in the minds of everyone. All these can be imbibed from music," the living legend said adding that he had lived music and would die by music.

The second edition of the book 'Pandit Rajeev Taranath Sarod Swarayaana,' edited by Ganesh Amingad and Raghupathi Tamhankar was released on the occasion. Also, a documentary titled 'Pandit Rajeev Taranath- A Life in Music' , directed by Anshan Kumar and video clippings of the birthday wishes sent by his pupils across the world were screened. Rajeev Taranath's disciples presented a Sarod concert.

Sreenivasa Prasad to retire from politics after his MP term ends

'I will not remain in any political party; None from my family will succeed me'

Mysuru, Oct. 18 (RKB&BCT)- Former Minister and current BJP MP representing Chamarajanagar (reserved) Lok Sabha constituency V. Sreenivasa Prasad said he will retire from politics after his present term as MP ends in 2024. He was speaking at an event organised to felicitate Prof. C. Basavaraju, VC of Karnataka State Law University and Kalyanasiri Bhanteji, who obtained a Ph.D from KSOU, at Kalamandira yesterday (See page 9).

V. Sreenivasa Prasad

Prasad attributed his decision to quit politics due to his ill health. "I wanted to retire from politics four years back. But due to some political developments and circumstances, it was postponed. I will not contest any more elections. I will complete 50 years in politics when my present term as MP ends and I contested a total of 14 elections in my political career out of which I won 11," he noted.

It may be recalled here that Sreenivasa Prasad had declared that it was his last contest in any election during the 2013 Assembly polls. However, when he was dropped as Revenue Minister in 2016 by the then CM Siddharamaiah, a miffed Prasad resigned as MLA and fought a bitter verbal battle with the former.

Later, he joined BJP and contested bypoll from Nanjangud Assembly constituency in 2017, which he lost. He was fielded in the 2019 LS polls by BJP and he won. In 2018, his son-in-law B. Harshavardhan was elected on a BJP ticket from Nanjangud Assembly constituency. "I have represented Nanjangud and have served both State and Union Governments as a Minister. I agreed to contest the last Lok Sabha elections as my well-wishers said I should retire only after winning the elections and not after an electoral defeat," he added.

Prasad said that after his term ends, he will neither contest any elections nor will remain in any political party. "No one from my family will succeed me. I will involve myself in the social activities of a Foundation," he said.

A six-term MP from Chamarajanagar, Prasad had won on a Congress ticket four times (1981 to 1991) and on a JD(U) ticket once (1999). He was also Minister of State in Atal Bihari Vajpayee's Cabinet (1999 to 2004). He was elected as MLA from Nanjangud twice (2008 and 2013).

Former Lokayukta regrets deteriorating standards in public life

Mysuru, Oct.18 (RKB&DM)- Regretting the deteriorating standards in public life, former Karnataka Lokayukta and retired Judge of the Supreme Court Justice Santosh Hegde observed that there are many lapses and shortcomings in the society which should be addressed with urgency.

He was speaking after inaugurating the felicitation programme organised jointly by Samanathe-Swabhimana-Swavalambane Pratishtana, Mysuru and Samanathe Prakashana, Mysuru, at Kalamandira on Hunsur road here on Monday.

Maintaining that there are many lapses in today's society, Justice Santosh Hegde said that individuals alone cannot be held responsible for this as the role of the society too is a bigger one. Bemoaning the tendency to honour political leaders who come out of jail, with all pomp and gaiety, he averred that the society is giving prominence to personalities who have a dominating attitude, while ignoring those who truly deserved to be recognised and honoured.

Prof. C. Basavaraju, Vice-Chancellor of Karnataka State Law University at Hubballi and Dr. Kalyanasiri Bhanteji, Ph.D awardee from KSOU, who were felicitated in city yesterday, are seen with (from left) Samanathe-Swabhimana-Swavalambane Pratishtana Trustee Shivakumar, Samaanathe Prakashana's Bharath Ramaswamy, Justice Santosh Hegde, Prof. Neelagiri M. Talwar, MP V. Sreenivasa Prasad, Pratishtana Secretary Dr. Mullur Nanjundaswamy, Bodhiratna Bhanteji, Ananda Bhanteji, General Secretary of Mahabodhi Society, Bengaluru, Pratishtana Trustee Subbanna and Vice-President P. Nandakumar.

Arguing that society cannot be changed by law, he said that contentment and humanity are the two most vital factors for bringing about a change in the society.

Stressing on the need for developing humanity among youths at an early age, he expressed concern that professionals and others are finding little time to interact with their parents, either due to work pressure or mechanical coupled with stressful life.

Lauding the Pratishtana for organising the programme in which two personalities were felicitated, Justice Hegde observed that this programme is also a meaningful one as the Pratishtana is fulfilling its social responsibility.

Ananda Bhanteji, General Secretary of Bengaluru's Mahabodhi Society, who graced the occasion, said that equality can be brought about if only everyone treat others with respect and affection. He stressed on the need for everyone to follow Buddha's Panchsheel doctrine (Five principles that are most essential moral codes) to abstain from killing living beings and indulging in violence, stealing, sexual misconduct, lying and intoxication.

He further said that there will be no humanity in the absence of affection and compassion and that people should build confidence coupled with morality and nobleness.

Prof. C. Basavaraju, who has taken over as the Vice-Chancellor of Karnataka State Law University at Hubballi and Dr. Kalyanasiri Bhanteji, who got Ph.D degree from city's Karnataka State Open University were felicitated on the occasion.

Former faculty of University of Mysore Dr. Neelagiri M. Talwar delivered the felicitation address. Chamarajanagar MP V. Sreenivasa Prasad presided.

Pratishtana Secretary Dr. Mullur Nanjundaswamy, Vice-President P. Nandakumar, Trustees Shivakumar, Venkataraju and Subbanna, Bodhirathna Bhanteji, Samaanathe Prakashana's Bharath Ramaswamy and others were present.

MCC launches online Trade Licence facility

Traders complain high and unfair fee structure; Mayor assures redressal

Mysuru, Oct. 18 (SPN&BCT)- The Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) has launched an online facility that will allow traders and merchants to apply and renew Trade Licence on the internet without making rounds to the MCC offices and contacting middlemen. This is part of the Corporation's digital initiative to achieve transparency and also to collect maximum licence fee.

At a special meeting held last evening that was attended by representatives of Traders' Associations at Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar Hall, Mayor Shivakumar handed over online Trade Licence documents to two traders and symbolically launched the facility.

The Mayor said that traders faced a lot of difficulties earlier in obtaining Trade Licence and also had to depend on middlemen for the process as they hardly found time to visit the MCC offices to obtain the licence. "The new system ensures transparency and the traders can apply or renew the licence from the comforts of their shops and homes. The receipts with digital signatures can be downloaded," Shivakumar said.

Mayor Shivakumar chairing a special meeting at MCC Hall last evening.

He said that the fee collected for issuance and renewal of Trade Licence was one of the major sources of revenue for the MCC. "Unfortunately, there was reluctance of traders to visit the MCC Offices and this had resulted in loss of revenue. Though MCC had issued Trade Licence to more than 19,000 merchants, only a few had bothered to renew it while many others had not paid for the same," he said.

Several traders complained that the Trade Licence system followed by the MCC was unscientific and the civic body must desist from levying exorbitant Trade Licence fee. Mysuru Hotel Owners Association President C. Narayanagowda and other traders said that the MCC was levying Rs. 17,000 as Trade Licence fee for properties that paid a licence fee of Rs. 10,000 earlier.

'Unfairly high tax structure'

"Cinema halls, commercial complexes and choultries are being harassed with excessive Trade Licence fees and the fee would be levied based on the location of the businesses. "Instead, the MCC must take into account the categories of electricity supply to that particular property," traders suggested.

Responding to the demand, Mayor Shivakumar assured that he will call for another meeting to discuss the Trade Licence grievances. "We have been demanding the MCC to revise Trade Licence since the last three years but our pleas have fallen on deaf ears. When the Trade Licence fee is decided, the MCC must call the representatives of Traders' Associations too instead of just officers and Corporators deciding on the fees," opined B.S. Prashanth, President of Federation of Associations of Mysuru.

MCC Commissioner G. Lakshmikantha Reddy said, "The special software developed for online Trade Licence system eliminates the need for middlemen. The new system will streamline the entire process of issuing and renewing Trade Licences. Though there are more than 50,000 commercial establishments across the city, only 19,000 had obtained Trade Licences."

Deputy Mayor Dr. G. Roopa, Corporators Ashwini Ananthu, former Mayor Ayub Khan, MCC Health Officer Dr. D.G. Nagaraj and others were present.

WORD OF THE DAY

Emblazon

Pronunciation: im-BLAY-zun.
Meaning: To emblazon something is to decorate its surface, usually with a name, slogan, or picture.
Origin: Blazon is a less commonly used synonym of the more familiar coat of arms. Both centuries-old terms refer to heraldic designs, symbols, and other imagery (think crosses, lions, stripes, etc.) that typically appear on banners, shields, armour and elsewhere. The verb form of blazon meaning "to represent armorial bearings in drawing or engraving" and emblazon, "to inscribe or adorn with or as if with heraldic bearings or devices," came into use around the same time in the late 1500s. Emblazon still refers to marking something with an emblem of heraldry, but it is now more often used for adorning or publicizing something in any conspicuous way, whether with eye-catching decoration or colourful words of praise.
Example: "In Cod We Trust. It's a phrase emblazoned above the picture window at OK UK Fish-n-Chips in south Fort Myers, and it symbolizes the restaurant's laser-like focus on this staple British dish." — Gina Birch

THE ODD WORD

Ecophobia

Fear of home.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Easier said than done

Meaning: The phrase 'Easier said than done' is said of a task that is easier to talk about than to do.
Origin: Like so many popular sayings, the origin of the idiom 'Easier said than done' can be found in venerable literature. This common expression was first seen in print in the Terentius Afer's 1483 book, Vulgaria Terentii, and was worded in the language of the day as: "It is easyer to saye than to do."
Example: "Finding a good job is easier said than done."
